

“There is a fundamental uncertainty throughout the universe... As one approaches the Eye, however, that uncertainty grows enormously.”

“It’s tempting to linger in this moment,
while every possibility still exists.”

“But unless they are collapsed by an observer,
they will never be more than possibilities.”

“What they could not unlearn was hidden away in darkness - obfuscated, then lost. They did not want to see their story end.”

“Every decision is made in darkness. Only by making a choice can we learn whether it was right or not.”

“We were disasterously unprepared for space.”

“I needed to know what would happen.”

“If it helps, we’re in a time loop, so we won’t really die.”

“But we’ve also died more than anyone else.”

“...not that anyone else knows it.”

“How do you stay so calm
in the face of repeated impending Death?”
