THE LEGEND OF HEROES TRAILS OF COLD STEEL

A Living Breathing World

Cold Steel's biggest boon is how the NPC's and cast's characterization make the world feel like an immersive place. As you spend more time talking to everyone you get to know the progressive stories and lives of the NPCs throughout the course game.

The Bottom Line

Cold Steel may have its imperfections in its constraining bonding system and character casualties of depth in its bloated cast. But in the end, it tells us a story of human compassion, connection, and the warmth of bonds in an unforgiving world. This game hopes to inspire others to find that warmth for themselves and provide the same for others.
